Learn firsthand.

The best way to learn is by doing, and through hands-on learning opportunities, like the Medical Practicum, MU students get practical experience that gives them a head start in their careers.

Perform in cool places.

Choral music education major Renae Walker-Zamora (right) performed to a standing ovation with Manchester's A Cappella Choir at New York's Carnegie Hall.* She also saw a Broadway show, visited all the major attractions and took a sunset cruise around Manhattan with her friends.

*You don't have to be a music major to join one or more of our instrumental or vocal ensembles.

Connect with someone new.

It's easy to create close and meaningful relationships at MU. By learning about others' backgrounds and beliefs, you'll discover common ground and make lifelong connections.

3 REASONS to get involved

1. Join one or more of MU's 60+ student clubs and organizations (like Esports!) and meet others who share your interests.
2. Clubs need leaders. You can be one.
3. You'll make friends for life!
