WRITING COURSE (W) GUIDELINES
Approved by Faculty
November 14, 2003

A Writing (W) course in the major should:

1) Integrate significant opportunities for student writing into the course, including regular writing assignments and at least one major paper or its equivalent
2) Incorporate planning, organizing, drafting, revising, and rewriting of papers as a part of the course requirements
3) Tailor the writing assignments to the distinctive writing demands of the discipline
4) Include as a prerequisite for enrollment the successful completion of the Written Communication (GE-B) Foundations requirement.