

TRACK AND FIELD

As a first-year Manchester College student, you will not only have the chance to be on a team that competes at the conference and national levels, you'll be driven to achieve through a structured and successful program.

opportunities

Being a student-athlete at Manchester means you'll have the support you need to excel. A highly qualified and experienced coaching staff will guide you to be a better athlete. And all your work pays off when you're part of a winning team that has a reputation for success on the track and in the classroom. Academic support comes from teammates and the College's Success Center. And you'll receive financial aid –100 percent of Manchester students do!

meet the coach

As a college athlete, Coach Brian Cashdollar was a four-year letter winner and two-time captain at Ball State University, scoring points in every one of his conference meets. Now, in his 11th year of coaching at Manchester, he continues the success of a program that has produced 52 Academic All-Americans, 22 Athletic All-Americans and four national champions. Cashdollar was named HCAC Coach of the Year in 2002, 2004 and 2009.

highlights

Under Coach Cashdollar's leadership, the Spartans have broken 26 school records and named 38 event champions and 53 All Conference athletes in the HCAC. At the national level, track and field has produced three Academic All-Americans, nine national qualifiers, 15 provisional national qualifiers, two All-Americans, and one national champion. In 2009, the men's team finished second in the HCAC and 14th in the nation, while the women's team won the HCAC championship.

facilities

Manchester College hosts a pair of invitational meets and competes on the nine-lane all-weather track and in the new hammer and discuss cages, resurfaced high jump and pole vault areas, and cement shot put areas. The team also uses the Physical Education and Recreation Center weight room, locker facilities, indoor practice areas and athletic training facilities.

... SELF-MOTIVATION

At the college level, the choices I make have a major impact on whether or not I'll be successful. I have to decide for myself if I go to weight lifting sessions and run on weekends. Being an athlete has helped me balance my time between running, academics and social life.
