The alternative certification program is not available without a baccalaureate degree. Our traditional program's admission requirements are the same as our alternative certification program's, only the level is different. The alternative certification program, called Transition to Teaching in Indiana, is neither an undergraduate or a graduate program for initial licensure. It is simply a post-baccalaureate licensure program.

Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled.

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Additional guidance on reporting race and ethnicity data.

Average number of clock hours required for mentoring/induction support	50
Number of full-time equivalent faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year	2
Number of adjunct faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year (IHE and PreK-12 staff)	2

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

Candidates consider issues from multiple perspectives and utilize instructional strategies to meet the needs of a diverse student population. The collaboration between classroom teacher and candidate also provides more opportunity for individual and small group instruction, continuous assessment of student learning, and individualization of instruction to meet students' needs.

Accountability for clinical practice occurs at all three phases of the Teacher Education Program. However, at the student teaching level (synthesis phase), candidates demonstrate their content pedagogical and professional knowledge aligned with both the CARE Model and InTASC Standards through a required student teaching digital portfolio. This portfolio represents a "best evidence" collection of artifacts which document student learning and reveal the candidate's competencies in the knowledge bases of the CARE Model.

Section I.e Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2012-13. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

All of our candidates are required to have a variety of field experiences, even when the program has many fewer courses than the traditional program. These experiences are both urban and rural, with children with special needs and high ability, with children whose first language is not English, and from all socioeconomic classes. Religious diversity is present as well. These experiences are tracked by the education department. Additionally, we meet twice a year with our community stakeholders to receive input and guidance as we refine our program to meet the needs of our communities and the learners in the area. The faculty in our unit works closely with the Indiana State Teachers Association, NCATE, Indiana Department of Education, Indiana Association for Colleges of Teacher Education, and the Association of Teacher Educators to stay abreast of what is current and needed in schools. Lastly, the faculty requires candidates to participate in professional development in a variety of areas such as technology for the classroom, bullying prevention, reading strategies, RTI, differentiation, and others to assist with the goal of meeting these assurances in all of our teacher candidates.

Section V Use of Technology

Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
Yes
- use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

In each education class, the integration of technology is modeled and expected. Candidates use Inspiration, ExpressionWeb, and other software. They discuss various forms of assistive technology. This assures preparation of teachers not only for the use of technology, but for its use pertaining to universal design for learning applications, too. All of our candidates are expected to integrate technology into lesson plans as appropriate for maximum engagement of their students. One of our education-designated classrooms recently had a SMART interactive whiteboard installed. Both faculty and candidates are learning how to use this technology effectively.

All teacher candidates, including alternative certification, take Educational Psychology where they examine assessment data available to teachers and use statistical knowledge necessary to understand, analyze, and use that data for the purpose of planning future instruction. All candidates are required to create, maintain, and present a digital portfolio to demonstrate his/her mastery of the unit's goals and objectives, as well as effective use of technology.

The College and unit uses the ANGEL course management system, which has been recently purchased by the Blackboard company. This system allows us to collect data on our candidates. It does not generate reports as efficiently as we would like so the statistical analysis occurs through Excel.

Section VI Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Teacher candidates take at least one course pertaining to children with special needs and differentiation to meet their learning and behavioral needs. Students with limited English proficiency is integrated into the foundational education course required of alternative certification candidates. Additionally, all lesson plans must be written to plan for the adaptation of that lesson for a variety of special needs and the enrichment of a student with high ability. Participation in an IEP team is covered in the foundational education classes required of all candidates as well. Candidates are encouraged to participate in at least one IEP conference while student teaching.
