

Addendum to language – effective May 2020

Please find a change in the PharmD prerequisite coursework as it relates to the biology requirement. For the next few cycles, we're going to be flexible in terms of substitution other biology topics in for this semester knowing students may have planned their course schedules towards the goal of the PharmD.

Two (2) courses in biological sciences with lab, one of which is anatomy, physiology, or a combined anatomy and physiology course

Due to the elimination of Early Decision by AACP and PharmCAS, item #6 under "It is mutually understood that:" should be adapted to the following:

Candidates are strongly encouraged to apply through PharmCAS by September 1 in order to be screened in advance of the program's first interview opportunity later that month. Applicants who apply after that deadline may be considered for the reserved seat(s), but Manchester will admit on a rolling basis and those applying early will be given priority consideration.