2012 - 2013 FISCAL YEAR

President's REPORT

From the PRESIDENT

A new era dawned on the morning of July 1, 2012, when this good place became Manchester University. On the horizon, we saw our ambitious Students First! campaign goal of $100 million grow clearer, so close we could almost touch it.

Fiscal year 2013 was historic for Manchester.

Despite the lingering effects of the recent recession, we built the largest endowment in Manchester history — $47,293,977 and growing. Our generous donors in the current campaign have earmarked $3.8 million more for the endowment. While our endowment is modest in comparison to wealthier schools, we have increased the value significantly in the past nine years. Endowment gifts are vital because they help secure our financial future, provide for needs we cannot yet imagine, and create student scholarships that help keep education affordable.

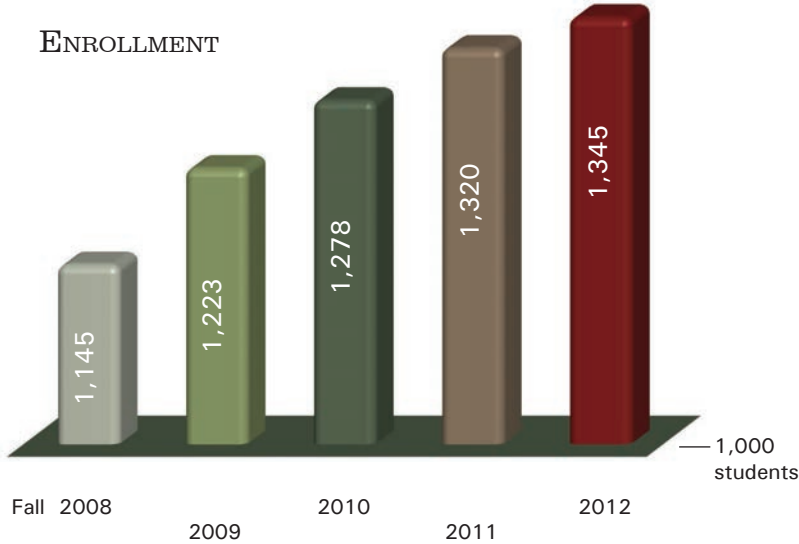

Mission Statement

Manchester University respects the infinite worth of every individual and graduates persons of ability and conviction who draw upon their education and faith to lead principled, productive, and compassionate lives that improve the human condition.

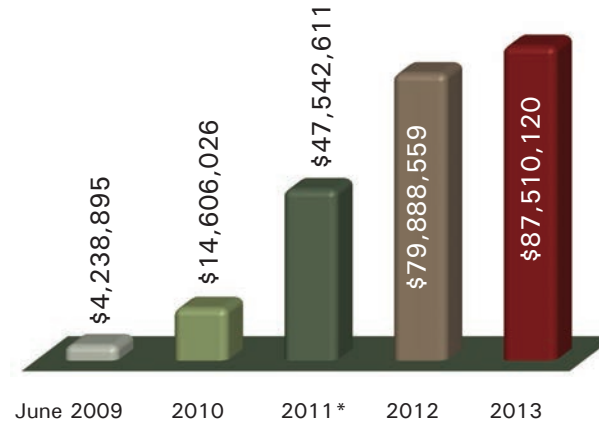

Every step of the way, in academics, in administration, in fundraising, in supporting our students for success, five Strategic Priorities guide us. Our administrators and our Board of Trustees assess our successes and challenges by these priorities:

1. Inspire effective learning to enable students to exceed expectations.
2. Be “mission centered and market smart” to maximize our impact in the world.
3. Build and sustain systems and processes to enhance student success.

ENROLLMENT

STUDENTS FIRST! $100 MILLION CAMPAIGN TOTAL GIFTS, PLEDGES AND PLANNED GIFTS BY FISCAL YEAR

*Includes $35 million Lilly Endowment Inc. grant

4. Generate sufficient recognition to widen support for Manchester’s mission.
5. Develop and maintain a financial margin sufficient to support Manchester’s mission and vision.

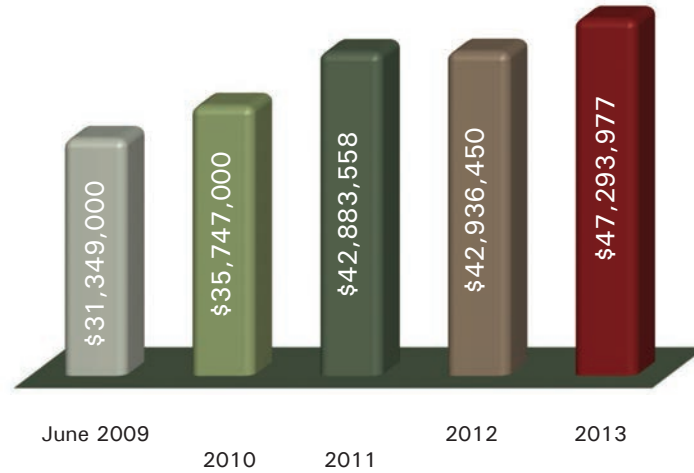

Our new name reflects the institution’s growing complexity. The Fort Wayne campus, home of the College of Pharmacy, elevated our stature in northeast Indiana and the region, where we are a respected partner in economic development and higher education.

Pharmacy stretched its legs confidently in a welcoming northeast Indiana health care and education environment, enrolling a strong first class. The success of those first 62 students and a top-flight faculty helped attract more than 450 applications from across the nation for our second class. With 73 students, our second Pharmacy class is even more diverse than the first.

In addition to the four-year professional pharmacy doctorate program, we offer master's degrees in education and athletic training that complement our 55 areas of undergraduate study on the North Manchester campus. Greater complexity creates more opportunities to advance our Mission.

Undergraduate enrollment remained stable, a significant achievement at a time other area colleges and universities are struggling. At Manchester, student tuition is our primary revenue source.

To keep our enrollment at a healthy level requires significant investment in financial aid. Nearly 300 endowed scholarships are included in the average $18,600 in institutional and other gift aid toward the average student bill of $36,246 to attend Manchester. Transfer students are increasing in numbers as more understand the lifelong value of Manchester's rigorous liberal arts education.

As we enter the home stretch in the Students First! campaign, we urge alumni, foundations and friends to lift us to the goal. Thanks to tremendous donor support in the campaign's early stages, and because of a strong fiscal year, we are striving to reach our goal a year earlier than originally planned.

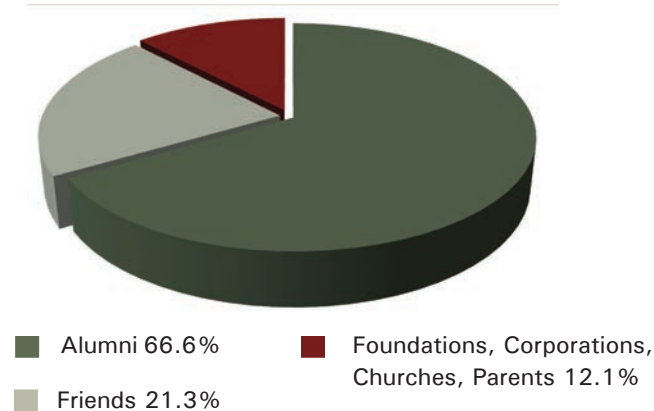

And that is my pledge to you as I complete my 10-year presidency on June 30, 2014: We will raise – in cash, pledges and bequests – $100 million to put Students First!

During the 2013 fiscal year, the Board of Trustees engaged in “succession planning,” anticipating my retirement. A board committee thoroughly vetted my successor, Dave McFadden '82, executive vice president and dean of the College of Pharmacy.

THE MANCHESTER FUND

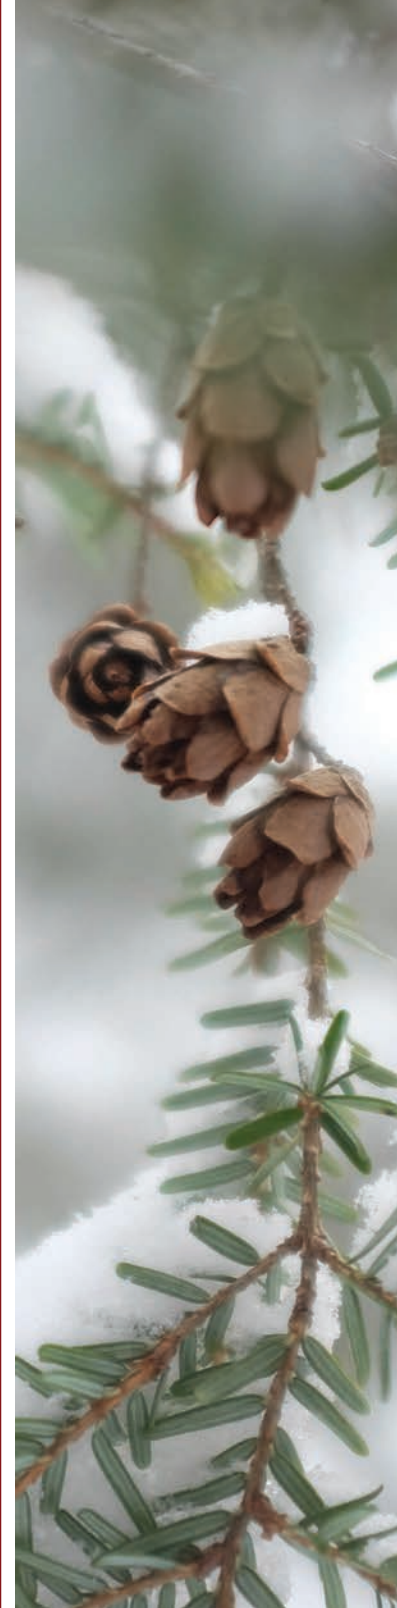

STUDENTS FIRST! GIVING BY SOURCE

The full board endorsed the transition at its fall 2013 meeting, and McFadden will assume the presidency on July 1, 2014.

As expected, our bustling Academic Center became a hub of student learning and faculty collaboration – both formal and informal. The Welcome Center gives our admissions staff an inviting environment to meet prospective students and their families, and its expansive windows offer a fabulous view of campus life. The Academic Center is home, too, to the popular Sisters Café, underwritten by two Manchester alumnae.

New leaders joined our Mission. Vice President Scott Ochander (enrollment and marketing) has immersed us in branding, enrollment management and integrated marketing designed to lift our enrollment. A familiar face is back in Vice President Tim McElwee '78 (advancement), who is leading our efforts to complete the campaign. Also, Jennifer Mitchell '84 Shepherd returned to her alma mater as executive director of alumni relations, bringing fresh ways for all generations to enrich their connections.

In a $1 million summer makeover, we transformed Funderburg Library into a modern, tech information center, and added Wilbur's, a study and coffee cove supported by a gift from Dr. Wilbur McFadden '53. We renovated East Street Apartments and installed knee-friendly flooring in the Stauffer-Wolfe Arena of the PERC.

Throughout the year, our dedicated Manchester University employees worked with purpose, empowering our graduates to "lead principled, productive and compassionate lives that improve the human condition."

2012 - 2013 Fiscal Year Highlights

Students First! campaign steams ahead

Ambitious, yes, but the $100 million Students First! goal appeared larger on the horizon as Manchester reached the $87.5 million mark by June 30, 2013. For the fiscal year, alumni and friends gave nearly $7.7 million to the comprehensive campaign. Of that, $3.8 million was earmarked for the endowment, which provides nearly 300 student scholarships and helps secure the University's financial future. Already the campaign is transforming student learning with the Academic Center, College of Pharmacy and PERC expansion.

Students uphold a proud academic tradition

Manchester's historic prowess in accounting grabbed the limelight again when a student team won first place in the Indiana CPA Society competition and another team advanced to national semifinals of an American Institute of CPAs contest. Spanning the spectrum of disciplines, the annual Student Research Symposium created an opportunity for students to showcase their diverse interests and mentored scholarship.

Faculty excel on both MU campuses

They stretched. They innovated. And with modern classrooms and laboratories on both campuses, inspired faculty raised the bar on student learning. The University honored several young faculty members for outstanding teaching, scholarship, research and service. Shiny new laboratories at the College of Pharmacy enticed faculty there to pursue research interests and publish their work. In North Manchester, undergraduates researched alongside faculty mentors, and grants continued to support work by our esteemed Environmental Studies Program.

Manchester officially becomes University

Manchester became a University officially on July 1, 2012, further elevating our national profile and reflecting how the small liberal arts college has grown in complexity. With two campuses and advanced degrees, the University renamed its three academic units: College of Undergraduate Studies, College of Graduate Studies, and College of Pharmacy. New signs and marketing products helped spread the word.

New graduates defy a tough job market

The value of a Manchester education held up well to the nation's economic challenges: 94 percent of our 2012 graduates reported starting jobs, graduate school or full-time volunteer service within six months of receiving their diplomas. Almost one-fifth were pursuing advanced degrees in law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and other professions. More than 70 percent stayed in Indiana to work or study.

Manchester welcomes inaugural Pharmacy class

The 64-member inaugural class of the College of Pharmacy donned new clinical white coats in a ceremony at Cordier Auditorium in August. Selected from a national applicant pool, the diverse group launched its four-year Pharm.D. professional program in a gleaming new Fort Wayne facility. Manchester joined Butler and Purdue as only the third pharmacy school in Indiana and the first in northern Indiana.

We take "improving the human condition" to heart

From North Manchester to Nicaragua, students, faculty and staff put their shoulders to the University Mission and reached out their hands to help others. The campus community combined for more than 40,000 volunteer hours donating blood, tutoring children, feeding the hungry, delivering health care, constructing Habitat for Humanity houses, cleaning up the Eel River and much more. We were named to the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll for the seventh consecutive year.

“I have a responsibility” to give back

Melvin “Mel” Holmes ‘63 enrolled at Manchester during a tumultuous time in American race relations. He found a warm community that welcomed him.

“When I first came to Manchester, my advisor said that I would be viewed as a ‘template’ for minorities,” says Holmes. “I found an accepting environment on campus and in North Manchester.”

Manchester’s gracious embrace inspired Holmes’ lifelong devotion to service. A retired senior buyer for AM General, he is active in the South Bend community where he has served on Urban League, library, park and youth services boards. He also has served on Manchester’s alumni board and was on the Board of Trustees from 1995 to 2004.

“I have a responsibility to be an active member of the community and to be an example,” says Holmes, who earned an MBA from Western Michigan University and has done post-graduate work at University of Notre Dame Law School.

Whenever Holmes encounters promising high school students in the South Bend area, he encourages them to take a look at Manchester. “Manchester is a quality education,” he says. “The physical appearance of the campus has changed tremendously” and for the better, he says. But the quality of students and the education they receive “has remained constant.”

Holmes is happy to give back to the Manchester community that so graciously welcomed him. Through the years, he has made numerous on-campus class presentations as a role model for minority students — indeed, for all.

 Merryman*

A Saint Mary's College professor, this Manchester trustee and her husband, George Merryman '74, have supported Students First! with gifts to the Academic Center and The Manchester Fund.

"George and I are thankful to Manchester for the opportunities that were provided to us as students. We believe in Manchester's Mission and want to see it continue so others will have the same opportunities we did."

“Sometimes I wish I had another note to play”

It’s 8 a.m. on a crisp autumn morning. As Manchester students roll out of bed or scramble to their first classes, the Chime gently tolls “By the Kenapocomoco.”

As a student, John Whisler ’73 fell in love with this comforting daily ritual. A music history major, he played the Chime from his second semester until he graduated.

Now that the massive bells are set to be preserved in a new Chime Tower, Whisler saw an opportunity to support the Students First! campaign in a way dear to his heart. His gift of $25,000 will help create the new Chime Tower.

“I remember playing songs, wishing that I had another note to play,” he says with a chuckle. “Hopefully the new bell will allow the performer to play additional songs.”

Whisler’s love of Manchester stems from deep family roots at the University and in the North Manchester community. Five generations of Whislers — from his grandparents to his sister’s grandchildren — have attended Manchester. His parents spent their last years at Timbercrest Senior Living Community. And his great aunt was the college librarian in the 1920s.

“When I was a junior in high school, my dad was getting me ready to attend Manchester,” says Whisler, who grew up in central Michigan. “I immediately felt a sense of security here, a faculty interest in my development and well-being.”

His undergraduate experience was rich and diverse. He sang in A Cappella Choir, was a disc jockey for the campus radio station, WBKE, and cherished life in Ikenberry Hall. “My favorite memory is meeting classical cellist Leonard Rose and having the opportunity to turn the pages during his concert on campus,” says Whisler. “It’s the type of opportunity you wouldn’t find at a big school.”

After graduation, Whisler earned two master’s degrees and is a distinguished librarian for Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, Ill. He was honored as 1997 Illinois Academic Librarian of the Year and, in 2002, received an award for distinguished service to an Illinois library consortium. He also has published a book about Elvis Presley’s discography and has a passion for gardening sown by his childhood on the farm.

Whisler credits his liberal arts education at Manchester for his success. “It develops a certain flexibility of mind to study outside of your area of interests,” he says. “In my career as a librarian, I have had to learn other skills and adapt, an ability that came from my education at Manchester.”

Because Whisler does not have any children to send to Manchester, he’s giving back with gifts to his alma mater. In addition to the Chime gift, he established an endowed scholarship fund with his sister Esther Noffsinger ’61 named in honor of his father, Arthur Whisler ’35, and his brother, Glen Whisler ’65. Because both Arthur and Glen were pastors, the award provides financial assistance to students pursuing ministerial careers.

Though Whisler’s wife, Karen, is not a Manchester grad, they both feel compelled to give. “Karen has no similar connection to (her alma mater) the University of Hawaii,” says Whisler. “She recognizes the importance of Manchester to me.”

Rich and Carolyn Ringeisen '66

Rich, a former trustee and retired university chancellor, and Carolyn, a retired university educator, give faithfully to The Manchester Fund and support Students First! through an endowed scholarship.

“Manchester is a special place and we want it to succeed. We’re very proud of Manchester.”

Manchester “encouraged my voice”

From the beginning, Manchester had a powerful effect on Ruthann Knechel '64 Johansen. Her undergraduate education nurtured her intellectual and spiritual development and expanded her horizons. Faculty, she says, “encouraged my voice.”

Now, after distinguished careers in higher education, Johansen and her husband, Robert '62, of Granger, Ind., are giving back generously to sustain the University that helped them grow. They support the C. Emmert Johansen Memorial Scholarship Fund, the Gladdys Muir Scholarship Fund, the Ken and Viona Brown Peace Studies Fund, and give regularly to The Manchester Fund. Time is a valuable gift, too, and Johansen calls her service as a University trustee since 2008 “a satisfying privilege.”

After graduating from Manchester with a bachelor’s degree in English and music, Johansen earned a master’s degree from Columbia University Teachers College and a Ph.D. from Drew University. The author of several books, she was a faculty fellow of the Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies at the University of Notre Dame and a longtime professor of liberal studies there. She retired in 2013 after six years as president of Bethany Theological Seminary.

Manchester laid the foundation for her success, says Johansen, and she wants to help her alma mater do the same for others. “Students and faculty need our gifts,” she says, “to sustain good, academically rigorous and spiritually sensitive education.” What’s more, says Johansen, giving to something that we believe in strengthens our connections and sense of community.

A lifelong member of the Church of the Brethren, Johansen treasures the core values to which Manchester remains committed: integrity, equality, justice and peace. Manchester can keep promoting those values only if gifts from alumni and friends keep making it possible. Johansen knows the difference it makes.

Harshbarger's Manchester roots run deep

For William Harshbarger '63, attending Manchester was a foregone conclusion. His parents, both 1928 graduates, met at Manchester and served on the Board of Trustees, and his brother, Richard, is a 1956 graduate and professor emeritus of economics.

Fifty years later, William is grateful that he followed in his family's footsteps. "At Manchester, I found a well-rounded experience and a distinguished chemistry department that prepared me for a career," he says.

Harshbarger graduated with high distinction in chemistry. While a student, he starred in the campus theatre production of Oklahoma! and played basketball until it conflicted with his chemistry studies.

His Manchester education paved the way for earning his Ph.D. in chemistry from Cornell University. "The Cornell connection started with Paul Flory, who graduated from Manchester in 1931 and later won the Nobel Prize in chemistry," explains Harshbarger. "My advisor, Professor Ed Miller '56, has a Ph.D. from Cornell and helped connect me with the school."

Manchester is a special place for Harshbarger who, with his wife, Karen, funded a named space in the Science Center and helped fund an endowed scholarship named in honor of his parents, Albert and Olive Harshbarger. He gives regularly, too, to The Manchester Fund, because he wants future students to benefit from Manchester's excellent science programs and rich personal connections just like he did.

Associate professor and director of teacher education, who supports his students with regular, unrestricted campaign gifts.

“I cannot think of a better way to support Manchester than to give back and financially provide for the students I teach. I know the power that every dollar has on their educations, from helping them travel during January sessions, to having access to the technology and books that they need.”
